DOG TRAINER ASSISTANT

PART-TIME POSITION AVAILABLE

C.J.'s Dog Training is a long-standing, reputable dog training institution in Vancouver, Washington. Our mission is "Saving dogs lives through education of owners regarding how dogs think, and through education of dogs using effective, humane training methods." In C.J.'s Dog Training classes, students learn more than just how to teach their dog commands. They learn how their dog thinks and how to read his/her body language. They learn management techniques and how to change unwanted behaviors. Our training methods are based on how dogs learn and how people learn, using rewards and positive reinforcement, not pain or punishment. Our motto is "A well-trained dog is a happy dog!" We employ dependable, friendly, and loyal individuals with a positive attitude, excellent work ethic, experience in dog handling, and a genuine love of dogs.

We are seeking an assistant dog trainer to help us serve our group class clientele. The assistant trainer will help our professionally certified dog trainer in puppy and adult dog obedience classes on some weekday evenings and on Saturday mornings.

We are looking for someone who:

- Has a passion for training dogs and has a positive effect on clients
- Displays professionalism at all times and communicates well
- Is comfortable around all different dog breeds and sizes
- Can lift 30 pounds, can stoop or kneel and spend most of the shift on their feet
- Has dependable and reliable transportation

Primary job responsibilities include:

- Assisting class instructor in group classes
- Working one on one with individual dogs and their owners
- Fitting dogs with training equipment and handling merchandise sales transactions
- Setting up for classes and checking in students

Keep in mind that while part of the job is engaging with dogs and learning positive reinforcement training methods from our highly reputable program, the main focus for assistants is to help keep the classes running smoothly.
